

Generative AI Fundamentals

StatSkill AI • Learning Material

Generative AI

This section explains generative ai using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.

Large Language Models

This section explains large language models using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.

Tokens and Context

This section explains tokens and context using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.

Prompting

This section explains prompting using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.

Capabilities

This section explains capabilities using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.

Hallucinations and Limitations

This section explains hallucinations and limitations using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.

Responsible Use

This section explains responsible use using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.

Practice: write a prompt with role, task, context and output format.

This section explains practice: write a prompt with role, task, context and output format. using simple definitions, practical examples and learning-focused guidance. Understand the concept first, then apply it in a small exercise before moving forward.